

Five Hunters Shot To Death On First Day Of Buck Season

Four Others Suffer Fatal Heart Attacks

Harrisburg (AP)—Five hunters were reported shot to death in separate accidents yesterday as Pennsylvania's regular buck deer hunting season opened. First reports on opening day results ranged from a probable record turnout and kill in Lancaster County to only fair in the top deer county of Potter.

A State Game Commission spokesman, while unable to quote the accidental death total in recent opening days said that he "didn't remember anything like this (five) in many years." He added it probably would mean a new high for accidental hunting deaths in Pennsylvania for any one year.

In Potter County, Robert Ellenberger, district game protector, blamed poor visibility for the lack of more hunters and a higher kill. He said there was a lot of road hunting and that most of the buck taken turned out "very small." It was snowing lightly and raining off and on all day but the snow melted as it hit the ground and did not form a tracking cover.

In Lancaster County, observers estimated the number of hunters at easily the best in history. Fifteen kills had been confirmed with the majority of deer running big and bulky with seven to 10 points and up to 180 pounds.

One person said the turnout probably was due to many county hunters staying in their home territory after unsuccessful hunting in the north-central Pennsylvania area killed by gunshot wounds were:

Earl Smith, 49, of Sagers-town, Crawford County, near Meadville; Frank Allen, 65, R. D. 2, Apollo, Armstrong County, near New Kensington; Alex Budzinski, 46, West Scranton, in Wayne County; Abe S. Bailey, about 55, Phillipsburg, near Clearfield; and Thomas Longo, 14, of Nuremberg, Schuylkill County, while hunting near his home.

In addition, four hunters suffered fatal heart attacks while hunting during the day. They were:

Leidy Ralph Moyer, 43, of Pegkissie, Bucks County, who collapsed in the field near Conneville, Potter County, while hunting with two brothers; Austin Bashloush, 43, of RD 2, New Kensington, found dead near his home; Arthur F. Benson, 58, Erie, who suffered an attack in a lodge near Warren; and Alexander MacKinley, 55, Rimersburg, who died of a heart attack at a Kane hotel.

Another opening day hunter was killed in an auto accident. Edward W. Thournhurst, 46, of Avonmore, died in Forest County a few hours after arriving there to set up camp.

Another early report of a good kill came from Mifflin County where game protectors said the buck taken were of good size with big racks. The largest was a 14-pointer of about 150 pounds. Dale B. Miller of Whitefield, Md., bagged the first albino (all white) buck in memory of the county's oldest hunters. It weighed 125 pounds and had four points.

Hunting was the "best on record" in the southern part of Columbia County with hunters in the northern section faring better than last year.

Budzinski was mistaken for a deer and shot while hunting in Northern Wayne County. Coroner Arthur C. Bryant identified the man who fired the fatal blast as Henry Lahoda, 32, of Thompson, Susquehanna County. The wounded man died about 11:30 a.m. in Wayne Memorial Hospital, Honesdale.

Britain Ousts King Of Buganda From His Throne

London (AP)—Britain booted the 29-year-old King of Buganda off his throne yesterday for insisting upon a definite date for independence within the British Commonwealth for his 900,000 subjects. The King opposed also the British plan for a federation of East African territories.

A state of emergency was declared in Buganda province, the largest and most important in Uganda, Britain's rich cotton-producing protectorate in East Africa. Cambridge-educated King Muteesa II, ordered into exile, was reported flying to London.

It was the second time in recent weeks that Britain had cracked down in one of her outlying territories. Britain removed Premier Cheddi Jagan in British Guiana in South America early last month on charges Jagan's leftist party sought to turn the colony into a Communist state.

Shot To Death

Detroit (AP)—Dr. Edward Spalding, famous heart specialist, was shot to death last night by a former mental patient who said he "got the wrong doctor," police reported.

Senate Group To Probe Charge Brownell Refused To Help Investigate Case

Washington (AP)—The Democratic high command cut loose with a new blast at Atty. Gen. Brownell last night even as the Senate Judiciary Committee prepared to investigate charges that Brownell refused to provide FBI aid in a Denver jury-tampering case.

Clayton Fritchey, deputy chairman of the Democratic National Committee, fired a three-way barrage at Brownell in a radio broadcast accusing the attorney general of injecting the FBI into politics and "pulling it out of crime-busting."

79th Birthday Celebrated By Churchill

London (AP)—Durable Winston Churchill chalked up his 79th birthday yesterday, but for Britain's "Grand Old Man" it was mostly just another working day in his quest for lasting world peace.

Scorning a holiday, the Prime Minister summoned his Cabinet to discuss the coming Bermuda conference and Russia's offer to attend Big Four talks; dropped in on a cheering House of Commons, and planned to wind things up at a midnight champagne and rum cake reception for 100 guests.

All day long, visitors and messengers called at 10 Downing St. the Prime Minister's official residence, to deliver birthday gifts and some 2,500 messages from all over the world, including cables from touring Queen Elizabeth II and President Eisenhower. The American President, an old war-time friend of Churchill's who will meet him Friday at the Big Three conference in Bermuda, cabled:

"My best wishes for a cheerful celebration, and many more years of happiness and contentment. Looking forward to seeing you soon."

Benson Declares Rigid Farm Price Supports Exert Terrible Impact On Entire Economy

Chicago (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson declared yesterday that rigid price supports and companion production controls for farm products could bring unemployment among non-farmers and "terrible repercussions in our entire economy."

In criticizing current federal agricultural programs, the GOP farm chief asked farmers to recognize that the effects of reduced agricultural output do not stop with the producer himself.

"Actually," he said, "the number of people who earn all or part of their daily living through transporting, processing, packaging and merchandising of products of our farms exceed those actually engaged in agriculture itself."

Benson offered this criticism of

Dulles, Eden Hope To Meet Soviets Soon

Washington (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles hinted strongly yesterday the United States will accept Russia's bid for an early meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers in Berlin.

"We approach a possible meeting with the representatives of the Soviet Union," he told a congressional committee.

Dulles spoke about the same time that Foreign Minister Anthony Eden was telling the British House of Commons he has "every reason to believe" the United States shares his hope an early conference can be arranged.

The State Department declined to say whether Dulles has assured Eden of this attitude in secret cables which have been flowing between London, Paris and Washington.

State Department press officer Lincoln White noted that numerous diplomatic exchanges have been made since Russia sprang its surprise invitation on the West last Friday.

White underscored Dulles' remarks yesterday as the latest reflection of the American government's official view toward an East-West cold war meeting.

In Germany, British and French officials said informally that all signs pointed to a Big Four session being held in West Berlin late in January.

Dulles' comments came as he wound up testimony before a special House committee investigating Russia's seizure of the three Baltic states of Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia.

He gave advance notice that the United States will adopt a tough attitude in dealing with Russia's Foreign Minister Molotov in the event a satisfactory basis for a conference can be found.

"I can assure you," Dulles said, "that we welcome opportunities to settle specific disputes between us; to end the race in armament, particularly atomic armament, and to reduce the risk of war."

"But let me also assure you of this," he said. "We do not look upon the conference table as a place where we surrender our principles, but rather as a place for making our principles prevail." Dulles expressed belief that this determination was backed by Congress and the American people.

Haymes Fails To Appear At Hearing

Los Angeles (AP)—Crooner Dick Haymes failed to appear for a deportation hearing yesterday and his $500 bond may be forfeited by the Immigration Service.

David Marcus, attorney representing the singer, asked for a continuance but Herman R. Landon, district immigration director, said the continuance was denied.

Haymes' attorneys hope to have the case postponed until after the holidays and also have it transferred to New York on appeal directly to the Immigration Service in Washington.

Former Gov. Kim Sigler Of Michigan One Of Four Killed When Plane Hits TV Tower

Battle Creek, Mich. (AP)—Former Gov. Kim Sigler was killed late yesterday in a plane crash as spectacular as his brief political career. Three companions died with him.

Sigler's private, four-passenger plane, apparently blinded by fog, rammed into either the top of a 540-foot television tower or a guy wire supporting it. Sigler was a veteran flyer.

With one wing sheered off, the fuselage sailed crazily for three-quarters of a mile and crashed and burned in a woods. Three bodies in the wreckage were badly charred. Another was found 20 yards away.

The other victims were Sigler's secretary, Mrs. Ruth Prentice, 41; her sister, Mrs. Virginia Augustus, eight miles northeast of here.

Sigler, a Republican, was governor for one two-year term in 1947-48. Then he was defeated by the present Democratic governor, G. Mennen Williams, who has held the office since then.

Before turning to politics he won renown as prosecutor for a one-man grand jury that sent numerous legislators and lobbyists to prison for bribe-taking or bribe-giving.

In winning the governorship he defeated Democratic Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner by 360,000 votes. Two years later he was beaten by Williams by 164,000 votes in a "political nose dive" almost as spectacular as his rise.

U.N. Ready To Start Explanations

Panmunjom, Tuesday, (AP)—The United Nations Command said today it wants to start explanations tomorrow to 328 South Korean prisoners of war listed by the Reds as refusing repatriation.

The Allies did not immediately ask for the start of explanations to the 22 Americans and one Briton held in the same camp by neutral Indian guards. A spokesman said interviews with those non-Koreans would start in about 11 days.

The Allied plan was sent to the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission by Brig. Gen. A. L. Hamblen, chief of the U. N. repatriation group.

Hamblen said he would like the talks to the 324 South Korean men and four South Korean women to start at 9 a.m. tomorrow (7 p.m. Tuesday, EST) and continue until 4:30 p.m., with an hour and a half break for lunch.

NNRC rules specify that requests for prisoner explanations must be delivered by 10 a.m. of the preceding day.

NNRC approval was expected to be only a formality.

It had been predicted for nearly a month that Allied efforts to persuade prisoners to return home would begin early in December.

Two Passenger Trains Collide; 12 Persons Hurt

Patterson, N. J. (AP)—Two Erie Railroad passenger trains, creeping along at reduced speeds, crunched together on a trestle of the road's main line tonight, injuring at least 12 persons.

None of the injured was reported in serious condition and there were no fatalities.

The trains — a Chicago-Jersey City express, the "Erie Limited," and a Jersey City-Waldwick local — were moving slowly when they collided head-on at 6:30 p. m.

Wet Weather Extends Over Much Of Nation

By The Associated Press

Three areas of the nation were wet yesterday and cloudiness prevailed over much of the remainder. Temperatures were about normal for the season.

A mixture of light snow, rain and fog extended eastward across the Great Lakes region into western New York and Pennsylvania. In the Gulf coast district a band of showers ranged from central Texas eastward to Mobile, Ala.

The west-central states generally had clear skies. That area also recorded the lowest temperatures, with International Falls, Minn., getting down to 12 degrees early yesterday.

Midday temperatures ranged from the low 30s in the Great Lakes region upward to the 70s in Florida and southern Texas.

Red Atrocities That Cost 38,000 Lives Hit By Lodge

United Nations, N. Y. (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., charged yesterday that 38,000 U. N. soldiers and Korean civilians were victims of a conscious policy of "wholesale brutality" laid down by world Communism. He said most of the victims died.

The chief American delegate charged before the General Assembly that Russian officers headed the command of prison camps in North Korea in which thousands of prisoners of war were slain by inhuman and atrocious means.

Most of the Assembly delegates sat in shocked silence as the chief American delegate opened the debate on the question of atrocities which the United States raised a month ago.

Lodge introduced a resolution proposing that the Assembly:

"One—Express 'its grave concern at reports and information that North Korean and Chinese Communist forces have, in a large number of instances, employed inhuman practices against the heroic soldiers of forces under the United Nations Command in Korea and against the civilian population of Korea;"

Two—Condemn 'the commission by governments or authorities of murder, mutilation, torture and other atrocity acts against captured military personnel or civilian population, as a violation of rules of international law and basic standards of conduct and morality and as affronting human rights and dignity and worth of the human person;"

Britain, France, Australia and Turkey, all with soldiers in Korea, joined the United States in presenting this resolution.

The sponsors did not ask for a commission of investigation, assuming it would be stopped by the Bamboo Curtain. American representatives also said they were certain that the evidence produced by the United States Department of Defense proved the case beyond dispute.

Lodge said barbarities committed on prisoners of war in a long death march northward from Pyongyang "suggest either sadism on a mass scale or, what is more likely, vengeful hatred and brutality resulting from the enemy's indoctrination of his forces."

Court Sets Dec. 10 As Hearing Date

Portland — Citizens have tossed a monkey wrench into the plans of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission's plan to close the old Delaware Bridge today.

The free bridge will stay open—for a while, at least.

The last-minute change of commission plans was forced when a civil suit was filed in federal court in Trenton, N. J., asking an injunction against closing or demolition of the bridge.

The fight has been getting more and more vocal as residents on both sides of the river, trade and civic groups, State representatives and attorneys have entered the legal free-for-all in an attempt to prevent the commission from doing away with the Delaware-Upper Mount Bethel span which has been toll-free since 1932.

Part of the agreement under which the new Delaware bridges was constructed stipulated there could be no free bridge within 10 miles of the three new structures. The new bridges will levy a basic toll of 25 cents on passenger cars or 20-trip tickets for $1.

The new bridge was scheduled to be opened today—and the old bridge to be closed. Yesterday's action changed that, insofar as the old bridge is concerned.

The action was instituted by four residents living near the bridge who said the commission planned to close it today. Federal Judge Phillips Forman stipulated immediately after the filing that the bridge be kept open pending further court action.

Forman also set Dec. 10 as the date for a hearing on the residents' application for a temporary restraining order against the closing of the bridge.

The suit was filed in the names of Arthur D. Barron and Anna Katherine Barron of Portland, Pa.; Charles Angellini of Knoxville Township, N. J., and Nicholas Ronca of Roseto Borough, Pa.

Barron is a member of the Portland Lions Club, and of Portland Board of Trade, two groups which have been opposing the demolition of the old bridge.

Granting of the stay followed a morning conference lasting 90 minutes, between Judge Forman and attorneys for the Delaware River Interstate Citizens Association and other civic groups in the Portland, Delaware and Columbia areas, and of the bridge commission.

Last night in Portland a committee of the Citizens Association planned a public meeting at the Village Barn, Portland, at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, where a "progress report" will be made to listeners, Barron said.

The commission's point is that unless the free bridges are closed, as stipulated in the financing agreement under which the new bridges were built, it would be unable to retire the bonded indebtedness through toll receipts because of the amount of traffic diverted.

This estimate of the situation was based on a traffic survey of the area made before construction began, according to Alex R. Miller of Easton, the commission chairman, yesterday.

Statements Taken From Killers In Jail Death Row

Jefferson City, Mo. (AP)—The St. Louis circuit attorney said last night death row statements taken from the Greenlease kidnap-killers might prove to be the basis for future prosecutions.

Edward L. Dowd, the circuit attorney, and St. Louis Police Chief Jeremiah O'Connell quizzed the condemned pair, Carl Austin Hall and Bonnie Brown Heady, for 4½ hours in their cells yesterday.

Dowd said "the interviews were well worth the time" and could be used if the state decides later someone should be prosecuted in the mystery of the missing $303,720, a shade over half of the $600,000 in ransom money.

The kidnapers are awaiting death in Missouri's gas chamber Dec. 18, a week before Christmas. Both Dowd and O'Connell described them as "very cooperative" in yesterday's questioning.

High Tribunal Rules For Part Time Minister

Washington, AP—A duly ordained minister who works part time on another job in order to make both ends meet doesn't lose his draft exemption, the Supreme Court ruled yesterday.

The court's 6-3 decision was handed down in the case of a Jehovah's Witnesses minister who got a two-year prison sentence for balking at induction into the military service.

Justice Clark, speaking for the majority, said George Lewis Dickinson of San Francisco made out a case for a draft exemption which meets the standards set up in the Selective Service Act.

Clark said Dickinson was denied an exemption because he worked five hours a week as a radio repairman.

"A statutory ban on all secular work would mete out draft exemptions with an uneven hand to the detriment of those who minister to the poor and thus need some secular work in order to survive," Clark wrote.

Justice Jackson handed down a dissenting opinion in which Justices Burton and Minton joined.

Augusta, Ga., AP—A patient at Lenox Veterans Hospital held six persons at gunpoint yesterday and wounded two of them before he was overpowered in the office of the chief nurse.

The patient was identified by hospital authorities as Wilbur Craig of Valdosta, Ga. The weapon was a .25 automatic pistol of foreign make.

Dr. William Walsh, chief of professional service, was wounded in the thigh and groin, and Beverly Cochran, assistant superintendent of attendants, was shot in the abdomen.

Hospital attendants had not determined yesterday afternoon how Craig obtained the pistol.

Large Number Of Deer Hunters Successful On Opening Day

Youth Suffers Shot Wounds In Pike Mishap

Boys and old men, housewives and girls, were among the hunters who blazed away at bucks in Monroe County yesterday as the State's deer season opened at 7 a.m.

There were as many nimrods in the woods as last year, but no more, estimated Game Protector John Doebling. But there were a sight more deer, he added.

Bucks with three-inch spikes are legal, but there wasn't much need for rulers. A majority of the animals taken yesterday were bucks with four to eight points.

Although a rash of hunting fatalities marred the sport in other parts of the State (five deaths), no accidents at all were reported in Monroe. There was one wounding in Pike County.

The victim was Walter Woglotz, 20, Coopersburg RD1, who suffered eight slight puncture wounds of the leg when his companion's gun accidentally discharged. The bullet struck a stone and ricocheted. Woglotz was treated at the scene—near the upper end of Lake Wagonpaack—by Dr. Frank Urdel, Newfoundland, then taken back to his cottage.

Notification was made to State police at Honesdale.

Bagging a deer was an old story to George H. Costenbader of Shawnee.

This may be because he spends the entire year going after "bucks"—as an internal revenue collector.

Whatever the reason, Costenbader yesterday nailed his 36th buck in his 38th year of hunting. The four-point animal was shot about two miles from Costenbader's home in Smithfield Township. It weighed 135 pounds. With him were his son-in-law, Eugene Rohlfing, Shawnee, and Rev. and Mrs. William F. Wunder, East Stroudsburg.

Costenbader said a boy in another party fired four shots at the buck, missed but drove him toward the revenue collector.

Over the years Costenbader said he killed 19 bucks in succession, missed, then killed 16 more, missed again last year.

A successful party from Marshalls Creek hung up five deer before Huffman's store there at the end of their trip yesterday.

The victorious hunters were: Norman Huffman, six points; Lester Fish, a spike buck; Robert Michaels, eight points, (all of Marshalls Creek); Wilbur Rohnbach, Nazareth, crotch buck; Donald Ward, Raubsville, crotch. All the animals were bagged near Marshalls Creek.

Others in the party were Henry Michaels, Richard MacDonough, Carlyle Huffman, Leslie Allen, Clair Hartzell, Harold Treible, Bruce Huffman, all of Marshalls Creek.

A 14-year-old boy, Bobby Kassner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kassner, 161 Anomink St., East Stroudsburg, bagged an eight-point buck at 40 yards on the Pocono Paradise Trail. The much-groomed deer in East Stroudsburg Junior High School first only once to kill the 150-pounder.

Police Chief Fred Decker, of Delaware Water Gap, killed a six-prong, 150-pounder at Hunter's Springs, near the Gap about 8 a.m. An effort man, William Ledward, shot a 7-point, 160-pounder at 8 a.m. in Jackson Township.

The Wigwam Park section, north of Stroudsburg, proved fertile ground for Clyde Ellenberger, 250 Smith St. He bagged an 8-point buck weighing 170 pounds in the morning.

Near Shawnee Harold Singer, of Stokes Mill Road, East Stroudsburg killed a six-point buck at 8:30 a.m.

Just five minutes after the season opened Robert Staples, Delaware Water Gap, fired from 25 yards to bring down a 140-pound buck sporting 8-prongs.

Raymond Lowe, of Raubsville, Northampton County, shot a 6-point buck weighing 160 pounds in the county.

At Saylorburg James Lerch, of Easton bagged an 8-point, 160-pound buck at 10:30 a.m.

Mrs. Stewart Lee, Bushkill, brought down a 150-pound 8-point buck about 7:30 a.m. near her summer cabin between Dingmans Ferry and Egypt Mills. She shot two bullets but "didn't even notice the distance."

Frank Schaller, 14, of 138 Sopher St., East Stroudsburg, killed his third deer in as many years. He made the kill in the Henryville section while hunting with his father, Clyde, and older brother, Ralph. One shot did the trick—a hit behind the front shoulder.

A 150-pound 4-point buck was shot near Thornhurst by Frank Melvin, 130 Green St., Stroudsburg, who was hunting with Richard Fenn, Bartonsville.

Mrs. Barbara Tucker, 21, of 1650 W. Main St., Stroudsburg, shot her first deer—a lusty 8-point buck—at 2 p.m. near Meisertown. It was the first one her party of 15 had seen during the day.

A $300 FINE AND COSTS was the price tag for this 8-point buck shot illegally south of Cresco yesterday. Deputy Wardens Paul D. Shaffer and Elwood Walter pose with 150-pounder which was "jacklighted" at 5 a.m., then hidden till the season opened two hours later. But wardens caught up with hunters and fines followed. ## Two Men Arrested For Killing Eight-Point Buck Two Hours Before Opening Of Season

Cresco—Two men, one of whom was awaiting trial in Monroe County Courts next Monday on burglary charges, were arrested yesterday morning after admitting they jumped the gun on buck deer hunting season.

John Doebling, county game protector, listed the early-morning offenders as William A. Schoonover, 22, of Stroudsburg RD 2, and Alfred P. Storm, 19, of Cresco RD 1.

According to Doebling, Storm admitted shooting the 8-point, 150-pound buck south of here at 5 a. m. after using a light connected to Schoonover's car to blind the animal. The men put the deer in the car trunk, then drove three miles intending to hide it until the season opened at 7, Doebling said.

He added that G. P. Smith, game warden, spotted the car at 6:45 and noticed fresh deer hair and blood in the trunk. The arrest followed and the pair was taken before Justice of the Peace Herbert Bonser in East Stroudsburg where they both pleaded guilty.

Schoonover paid $200 and costs on two counts and Storm was committed to jail in default of $100 fine and costs. According to the commitment docket at the jail, Storm was released there Sept. 29 on $2,500 bail for next week's criminal court. He was arrested Sept. 13 by Mount Pocono State police and East Stroudsburg police on burglary charges.

At that time police said Storm and Robert E. Young, 19, of Stroudsburg, admitted breaking into a Summer cottage near here. They are accused of stealing guns, fishing rods and alcoholic beverages.

Heavy Kill Reported At Newfoundland

Newfoundland—Greene-Dreher-Sterling High School took a day off yesterday for the opening of deer season—and the faculty and student body made the most of it.

First buck killed in this section was reported by Henry Arneberg, of South Sterling, athletic coach at GDS School, who shot an 8-pointer on Grassy Ridge.

A student at the same school, George Uhl, 16, of Newfoundland, carted off honors for killing the buck with the most points. He bagged a 12-pointer at Panther.

Another Greene-Dreher-Sterling schoolboy, 15-year-old John Manhart, of Greentown, killed a 9-point buck on Shiny Mountain.

Yesterday's kill within a five-mile radius of Newfoundland was tabulated at 54—or more than were killed on opening day last year. The 1952 figure of 41 included a number killed in the Promised Land section. No report of the Promised Land kill yesterday was available last night.

Ten deer were shot in an area of 100 acres located near Hemlock Grove Church, about a mile and a half east of Newfoundland.

Mrs. Fisher Author, III

Arlington, Vt., AP—Author Dorothy Canfield Fisher, 74, was reported by friends yesterday to be ill at her home. She was reported stricken Saturday.

Telephone calls were being refused at the home of the widely known writer—whose latest work, "Vermont Tradition," was published in October.

The report said her condition was "not serious" but that she probably would be confined for several weeks.

Mrs. Fisher is a frequent visitor in Monroe County. She is a sister-in-law of the Misses Elizabeth and Esther Fisher, of Swiftwater.

Radio Station Asks FCC To Approve Change

Washington, AP—The Communications Commission said yesterday it has been asked to approve a corporate change that would transfer control of Pocono Broadcasting, Inc. (WVFO), Stroudsburg, Pa., to Empire Newspapers-Radio, Inc.

The proposed change represents transfer of control of the radio station from one corporation to another, but does not mean any change in ownership. James H. Otway is president of both companies.

Motor Club Backs Hess Plan For Stroudsburg By-Pass, Reject Bryant St. Proposal

Continued efforts to have the State Highway Department accept the Stroudsburg by-pass suggested by local organizations were urged by the board of governors of the Pocono Mountains Motor Club at a meeting in the club headquarters last night.

Traffic congestion and its effect on area business provided matter for considerable discussion. It was pointed out that motorists in some sections are being advised to avoid the Stroudsburg because of the traffic problem here during peak periods.

Added travel is expected when the new bridges are thrown open to traffic at Delaware Water Gap and Portland.

R. LeRoy Dengler, president of the board, and Russell Eschbach, of Bushkill, who were in the party which met E. L. Schmidt, state secretary of highways at Harrisburg, reported they were told at the conference that the department lacked funds to build the by-pass as mapped out by Edward C. Hess, Stroudsburg borough engineer.

The authorized unit strength is 165 said Capt. W. C. G. Peterson, commanding officer.

The company has just completed the first cycle of its recruitment drive among schools. Virtually all high schools in the county were visited by company representatives.

Plan now is for the company to re-group and form new plans to increase its strength. The company was inspected last night by Maj. John Remetta, battalion commander, from Carbondale.

Action By Two Men Averts Serious Fire

Bangor—A fire was prevented by the alertness of two local citizens here yesterday.

Ralph J. (Rex) Erdman, newly-elected councilman, and Forrest (Skinny) Kline Sr., saw smoke coming from a row of four connected abandoned houses on Washington St. opposite their own homes.

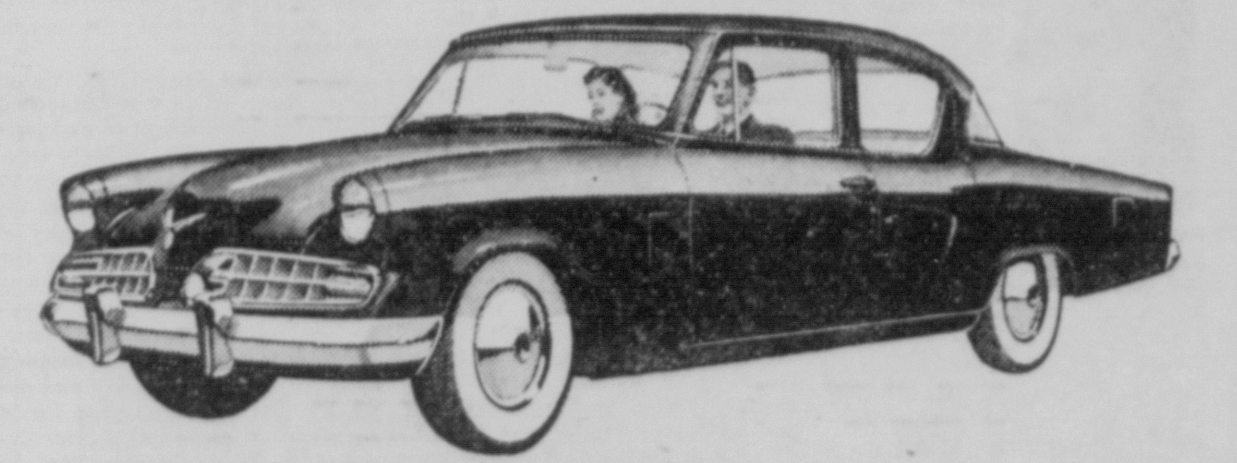

The men ripped off the door of one of the middle houses and found paper and litter burning. They doused the blaze with water from their homes while a girl ran to turn in the alarm. Most of the fire was out when the three borough companies responded.

Owner of the buildings is Carl J. Houck, who lives in a home next to the buildings.

Point Four Off Base

Our technical assistance program for under-developed nations, popularly known as "Point Four," is one of the most sensible enterprises, in theory, that the United States government ever has undertaken. And under the late Dr. Henry C. Bennett it was one of the most intelligently administered.

That distinguished public servant understood from the beginning that true progress comes slowly, and therefore that even the most earnest missionaries cannot in one season teach simple countrymen who obtain their water from open ditches the fine points of a modern sewage system, or teach people who plow with wooden sticks the advantages of a new American tractor.

Dr. Bennett did see the great benefits that could result over a period of years, from the patient teachings of skilled Americans who understood not only their own technical specialties, but also the limitations of the people they were assigned to help. He expected no overnight success, and neither did anyone else who understood Point Four's purpose.

One activity that distinctly was not its purpose was the indiscriminate handing out of money. Yet Sen. Allen Ellender, Louisiana Democrat, says he found on his recent tour that in one country Point Four is paying more than half the cost of building a college, in another half the cost of a housing project for its own people, and in one African nation two-fifths of the cost of an irrigation project.

In all these cases and in several similar ones the "host" nation will derive all the benefits, including in the instance of the housing project full title to it after its American occupants have departed.

The nations involved are delighted to accept this aid, of course, and it is not their fault if American administrators have led them to believe that Point Four is simply another kind of pipeline to the Treasury in Washington.

The purpose of Point Four, however, is to help these people to help themselves—to teach them how to build the things and grow the crops they need, not to do the job for them.

The United States, as Senator Ellender says, is neither able nor willing to undertake alone the development of all the backward areas of the world.

While paying proper tribute to the Point Four missions which are doing the right kind of job, the senator makes it clear that these eager-beaver empire builders in other countries are undermining the prestige of the whole program.

Point Four has its place if it is kept within proper limits. Senator Ellender's commendable report is a gentle warning that Point Four's administrators must withdraw to those limits and stay there.

A Just Decision

When Lieut. Milo J. Radulovich was dismissed from the Air Force Reserve, it gave every other officer a new and disturbing concern.

Lieut. Radulovich was charged with no crime or misconduct—so far as the public record shows he was dismissed solely because his father and his sister had been charged with Communist associations.

Now this young officer has been restored to honorable status in the reserve, by decision of Air Secretary Harold E. Talbott himself.

That decision seems to have been the only just one. God gave us our relatives, as the old saying goes, but he did not intend that we be punished for their misdeeds.

No Place Like Home

Andrei Vishinsky is moving into a swanky residence among New York's elite bought for him by Russia. He will reside in a $150,000 residence in the Sixties just off Park Avenue. This gives him an ideal location among the capitalists he despises so heartily, and a commanding view of the rich from every floor. On a clear day he can go to the roof and get a view of almost everything except the masses. . . . The house has twenty rooms, about ten more than the Wall Street targets of Andrei can afford. . . . House was built by J. William Clark, an American thread king. . . . He never dreamed the Commies would one day be doing their knitting there. . . . Walter Mack, soft drink czar, occupied it for a time, and he winces at the picture of "Five full ounces, that's a lot" ringing through the joint in Russian. . . . More lately the residence was owned by L. A. Lincoln, head of Metropolitan Life. . . . Mr. Lincoln was at first reluctant to sell to the Kremlin. . . . The foremost exorcisor of America and its people has been living in the spacious Pratt estate at Glen Cove. . . . He will miss the more luxurious interiors and the expansive gardens but takes the attitude: "Oh, well, you can't have everything." . . . The Russians are doing well in this matter of smart living in this country, and money is no object even in moments when berating those who have it. . . . But why grouse? . . . When a Russian comes home from a hard day's work denouncing those who seek the comforts of life, he likes to relax in complete luxury and dream up his next exorcism of the rich in an atmosphere of opulence.

"Life With Father" is being played on TV as if it were "Life With Dracula." . . . The Republicans have an answer to Adlai Stevenson's crack that the Democrats aim for a golf score of 108—out in 52, back in 56. . . . They say they will settle for a total of 141 (out in 33, and back in 53 plus 56), and that it will win because after being off the fairway for twenty years they are entitled to a handicap of fifty strokes. . . . Exploratory huddles on bars in New York theaters are being held. . . . A lot of folks favor them, mainly as affording relief from those numerous actors who do it all in pantomime. . . . ### Pigeonholed Wire Tapping Bill Attractive To Many Washington—Attorney General Herbert Brownell's pigeonholed bill to legalize wire tapping evidence for prosecution has run into a new hitch.

Other agencies and officials now want to get into the act. They are demanding the legislation be expanded to permit them to resort to wire-tapping for investigation and other purposes.

Chief among those involved in this backstage development are the Defense Department, the Central Intelligence Agency, the Federal Communications Commission, and Representative Kenneth Keating (R., N.Y.), chairman of the House Judiciary Subcommittee probing the Justice Department.

Their proposals would largely change the nature and scope of Brownell's measure.

As revealed in this column November 16, the Attorney General hurled his sensational Harry White charges chiefly to rouse public support for his neglected bill. It was introduced in the House and Senate last spring, but neither did a thing about it despite repeated pleas by Brownell.

His measure would (1) legalize the use of wire-tapping evidence in cases involving national security, (2) limit the authorization of wire-tapping solely to the Attorney-General, (3) restrict its use entirely to the FBI, and (4) limit the admissibility of such evidence to criminal prosecutions in federal courts.

Also, wiretapping information now in FBI hands could be used to reopen old cases or to start others currently barred because the evidence is illegal.

FREE RIDE—So far, the Defense Department is the most active in the background maneuvering to horn in on Brownell's legislation.

The Central Intelligence Agency hasn't produced its amendments as yet, but has indicated its main interest is getting legal right to wire-tap. Also, the Federal Communications Commission and Representative Keating have expressed primary concern in setting up safeguards on the use of wire-tapping.

The Defense Department wants to set itself up as a wire-tapping authority independent of and parallel to the Justice Department.

In fact, proposals drafted by C. R. Wilson, civilian intelligence official on the staff of the Chief of Naval Operations, would give the three armed services even greater powers than Brownell is seeking for the Justice Department.

He would legalize wire-tapping only for national security and defense. The Pentagon plan would authorize it for anything involving the "safety of human life"; in effect, without limitation. And that isn't all. Wilson's amendments would also make the military the sole arbiters of how, when and for what purpose they use wire-tapping.

The Secretary of Defense and the Secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force would be empowered to order wire-tapping—for virtually any purpose.

Neither the Justice Department nor the courts would have any control over these activities. Criminal evidence would have to be turned over to the former for prosecution, but that's all.

Wilson, when questioned by Representative Keating, frankly admitted his measure goes far beyond Brownell's.

"Then the position of the Defense Department, as I understand it," said Keating, "is that they are opposed to limiting the authority to wire-tap to the FBI, as requested by the Attorney General."

"Yes, sir," replied Wilson. "That is the Department's position."

He also disclosed the armed forces are now employing wire-tapping within their own spheres. This is only for information purposes, and cannot be used for legal action.

Bulletin—The Townsend old age pension movement already has set the time and place of its next (14th) national convention. It will be in Santa Cruz, Calif., on June 7 through the 10th. . . . Democratic National Chairman Steve Mitchell is working on a plan to get party leaders all over the country to join in a resounding statement denouncing "McCarthyism" and the Eisenhower Administration for doing nothing about it. The proposed blast would be issued at the $100-a-plate rally in Philadelphia on December 12. Insiders say Adlai Stevenson approves of the plan but insists it contain the names of party leaders in all sections before being published. Among the leaders who are being broached on the matter are Senators Walter George and Richard Russell, Ga.; Olin Johnston, S. C.; Robert Kerr and Mike Monroney, Okla.; Harley Kilgore, W. Va.; Paul Douglas, Ill.; Estes Kefauver, Tenn., and Thomas Hennings, Mo., also Representatives Sam Rayburn, Tex.; John McCormack, Mass.; Mike Kirwan, O.; Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., N. Y., and former Senator Blair Moody, Mich.

Complaint Against Scientists Is Their Ridicule Of Our Concepts Based On Faith

The archeologists, anthropologists and other specialists have long labored to discover the origin of man, avoiding, of course, the hypothesis that he was created by God in His image. These scientific folk have dug in the debris of the past for skulls and bones and stones and potteries, hoping eventually to come upon the first ancestor of us all.

They have found some bones in Heidelberg in Germany, in Java, in the south of France, in the vicinity of Peking in China, and in Piltown in Sussex, England. And out of these bones, they reconstructed frightening caricatures of manhood to which they gave various names, such as Pithecanthropus Erectus and Cro-Magnards, etc., all of which at school we had to memorize and believe, just as the theological students in the Middle Ages were required to know the details of the lives of angels.

No skeptic dared to raise even an eyebrow because science is stands above the normal errors of man until another scientist proves that the contrary of any hypothesis can be as correct as the original. Thus, we poor mortals, knowing only the facts of life, can never tell whether Einstein's correction of Newton is perfection itself until someone in this intellectual elite corrects Einstein, which may or may not happen while we are alive, for such genius does not often beset the human race.

At any rate, the Piltown Man, of whose existence I was required to believe nearly 40 years ago, is no more. He has been undone by chemistry, which wore away his patina and proved him to be a fraud perpetrated by a humorist, who while unknown has achieved immortality.

Of Piltown, that popularizer of science and history, H. G. Wells, wrote:

"The bony remains discovered at Piltown in Sussex display a creature still ascending only very gradually from the sub-human."

"The first scraps of this skull were found in an excavation for road gravel in Sussex. Bit by bit other fragments of this skull were hunted out from the quarry heaps until most of it could be pieced together. It is a thick skull, thicker than that of any living race of men, and it has a brain capacity intermediate between that of Pithecanthropus and man. This creature has been named Eoanthropus, the dawn man."

There was moreover a jawbone among these scattered remains, which was at first assumed naturally enough to belong to Eoanthropus, but which it was afterwards suggested was probably that of a chimpanzee. It is extraordinarily like that of a chimpanzee, but Dr. Keith, one of the greatest authorities in these questions, assigns it, after an exhaustive analysis in his "Antiquity of Man" (1915), to the skull with which it is found. It is, as a jaw-bone, far less human in character than the jaw of the much more ancient Homo Heidelbergensis, but the teeth are in some respects more like those of living men."

Well, it apparently was not so. It is now assumed that some fellow, with artistry and skill, posed a lot of odds and ends together and did a job on the scientist.

Now, we who know nothing—not having Ph. D.'s—ought not to badger the scientific elite, because one error does not prove that they are all wrong. We should recognize their sincerity in believing what they see even if the thing was put there for them to see.

My complaint is that they ridicule those who believe what we do not see or hear or smell or touch because some concepts are not measurable by instruments or by knowledge but only by faith. The scientists reject our faith but insist upon their own as infallible. They really do not know for a fact that the Piltown grave pit is 100,000 years old, although they are willing to believe that, just as they believed, up to this week, that the Piltown Man was somewhere between 50,000 and 100,000 years old. He turns out to have been manufactured like a toy in one of Woolworth's stores but with greater competence.

Now that the Piltown sub-man is no longer an ancestor, I think I shall return to the theologians, who, if they cannot prove their case by a microscope, give me the comfort of a power outside myself, whose moral law is, at any rate, a guide to decent living.

Looking At Life —by Erich Brandeis

If I lived in Hollywood I would be pretty tired by this time of seeing my city made the scapegoat for every sort of immorality and vice that is being committed.

In Connecticut a few days ago a Superior Court judge told an assembly of lawyers that his State would not use "Hollywood standards of morality."

In New York, the police commissioner told an audience of movie and television executives that he wishes they would stop giving police officers "the Hollywood touch" and making them look like "Keystone cops."

I don't know whether either that Connecticut judge or Police Commissioner Monaghan have ever been in Hollywood. They certainly don't talk like people who have been.

I have visited Hollywood at least a dozen times. I have found it a beautiful city, but certainly not a degenerate one. I have personally never yet seen a drunken star, either male or female, in Hollywood.

At a matter of fact, I have seldom ever seen a movie actor on Hollywood's streets, and when I have seen them in places such as the Farmers' Market, they were so inconspicuous and acted so normal that you couldn't have distinguished them from fellows who work in banks or girls who toil in department stores.

I don't know the exact population of Hollywood, because it is really part of Los Angeles—but it must run into a couple of hundred thousand.

The Citizen-News, in which this column appears, has a circulation of around 40,000. I have received serious fan mail from hundreds of Hollywood folks.

And the letters I did get concerned themselves with the same problems as those from Waynesboro, Pa., Lacombe, N. H., or Lubbock, Texas.

One of the funny facts about this Hollywood divorce business is that most of the divorces that are granted to movie people are not handed down in Hollywood at all, but in Reno, Mexico or other places where they make a business of it.

Non-Profit Organizations Under NLRB

Harrisburg (AP) — The Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board yesterday said that non-profit organizations—even if their profits go to charity—are within the board's jurisdiction.

In an "unprecedented" decision, the board opened the way to union organizing of non-profit industrial groups.

"This is the first such case decided by the board and means that non-profit organizations are within the board's jurisdiction," said PLRB Secretary George M. Walker.

The decision ruled that the Overbrook Golf Club, Bryn Mawr, was the employer in the meaning of the state labor relations law. The club had contended it was not conducted for business or profit and not engaged in an "industrial activity or pursuit of any kind."

The case reached the board after the AFL-Hotel and Club Employees Union, Local 568, charged unfair labor practices against the club in the firing of a part-time waitress for union activity.

"The Overbrook Golf Club entered the field of industry when it took over the restaurant and bar and operated the same for profit by co-mingling its profits with other sources of revenue for the maintenance and conduct of all operations of the club," the board ruled.

A state Supreme Court ruling which once exempted the Salvation Army from PLRB jurisdiction was used by the board in the Overbrook case.

The board cited an opinion by Justice Allen M. Stearns which said in part:

"We do not mean to decide or imply whenever a non-profit organization does enter an industrial field, even though its profits may be devoted to charity, it is exempted from . . . regulations such as the labor relations act to which other industry or business is subjected."

The board's decision ordered the waitress reinstated with back pay.

Knights, Dames Of Malta Conduct Memorial Services

Annual memorial service was held Sunday in Malta Temple, Stroudsburg, by St. John's Commandery, No. 186, Ancient and Illustrious Order of Knights of Malta, and St. John's Sisterhood, No. 46, Dames of Malta.

Honored were four members who died during the year: Norman N. Miller and Robert E. Price of the commandery; and Mary Steigerwald and Carrie Walker of the sisterhood.

Rev. William F. Wunder of Grace Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg, made the memorial address. He spoke reverently of the honored members.

There is no death, Mr. Wunder said, it is simply a change. We go from this life into a better and fuller life, a commandery spokesman quoted the minister.

The commandery spokesman said the pastor substantiated his statements by quotations from the Bible, both from "eminent theologians and from . . . sophists."

Rev. Wunder did not agree, the spokesman said, that "life is but a vapor, a mist, which rises and is gone. Life, he declared, is permanent . . . there is a change from the physical to the spiritual."

The pastor closed his talk by reciting two poems. The male chorus sang eight songs and the pianist played a march. Clifford R. Kintner, sir knight commander; Fred P. Eyer, generalissimo; August E. Miller, captain general; George Lashak, prelate; Alfred L. Snyder, recorder; Harry B. Howell, senior warden; and Edward H. Wagner, Truman E. Newhart, Rudolph O. Schubert and William O. Howell, guards of honor, all took part in the ceremonies.

A letter from Rev. W. Marion Jeschke of Buffalo, "supreme grand commander of the continent of America," said in part:

"Thus in this hour we place the wreath of affection on the graves

ter and Dr. A. V. Lupcho have returned from a week of hunting geese in North Carolina.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Staph spent Thanksgiving at the home of their son, Fred, in Union, N. J.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

There ought to be some way in which you could combine in one package the clothes and toys that the Thanksgiving company left behind them with the Christmas presents you want to send them. But always there is one elusive present that you can't seem to put your finger on.

And there's nothing so panic-making as seeing everybody else with an armful of Christmas packages while you stand around gawping at the Christmas tree ornaments you have no idea of buying.

Personally, there's one big stumbling block in the way of early Christmas shopping, and that's the fact that we have four big family birthdays in the six weeks before Christmas. In the first place you spend so much thought on birthday presents, you haven't any left over for Christmas ideas; and in the second place, you get lulled into a false sense of security, because you're buying something, aren't you?

Fortunately everybody else seems to be in as much of a quandary. At least you aren't tempted to fall into conversation with other shoppers—not when they look through you with that far-away look that means they're trying to visualize how that green would look with Aunt Hetty's complexion.

Even more of a problem is trying to imagine how much the small fry have grown since last year you saw them in a bathing suit last summer. They're unpredictable about growing at certain ages. Now let's see—should we get an eight or a six with a wide hem?

Listen To Bobby Westbrook daily, Monday through Friday, on "The Party Line" WVPO, 10:15 a.m.

Make Vests To Swell Chests Of Father, Son

By Dorothy Roe

Associated Press Women's Editor. Most popular gift of the year among the men folks this Christmas is likely to be a fancy vest. This is the first indication in many years (aside from those horrendous sports shirts) that men yearn to break away from their usual dull accoutrements and add a bright touch to their habitual grays and browns and navy blues.

The fancy vest definitely is a success, seen in bright flannels, broadcloths and the silks. They are worn for country weekends and non-business occasions by some of our most conservative males.

Your favorite men will feel pretty pleased with themselves, and with you, if you produce fancy vests in their favorite colors for Christmas. And you need not wreck the budget if you make them yourself. You may choose plain color or Tattersall checked flannel, a rich silk brocade or striped tie silk. Those pictured are made in a tie striped novelty cotton which looks like silk and is designed by Thomas for year-round wear.

If you've never attempted man-type tailoring before, these tips from local sewing center experts will ease the job.

Using a standard pattern, cut out the vests, following pattern directions. Although not called for in the pattern, an interfacing of unbleached muslin will pay off in better fit and longer wear. Wash and iron the muslin first to shrink it, then cut from the same pattern, for vest front only. Before sewing darts or making pockets, baste the muslin to the vest fronts with rows of diagonal basting stitches about 2 inches apart. This will hold the fabrics firmly together.

The muslin will act as a good interfacing for the pockets, too, and will prevent pocket corners from pulling out. It also will help prevent the armhole curve from stretching as your stitch. The muslin makes a strong, firm backing for buttonholes, whether done by hand or with the buttonhole attachment of your sewing machine.

Brass buttons add a gay finishing touch to the vests—or you may prefer smoked pearl or some other type buttons.

And don't forget—Sonny will be just as proud as Dad of a gay Christmas vest.

Degree Team Supper

The degree team of the St. John's Sisterhood, Dames of Malta will hold a covered dish supper and Christmas party on Wednesday night at the Malta Temple at 6:30. Maude Walton, drill captain, has asked all members to be present.

Arrangement. Wear it on the side of the head just behind the ear. If it is becoming to the hairdo wear one on either side of the head.

Besides being your very own original creations, these little hair pieces cost you nothing but time and effort. They may be made from the Christmas greens around the house or gathered in the woods. There is a ground pine found in some woods that is lovely and easy to drape around the head. Pine cones are particularly flattering combined with evergreens.

Old earrings may be converted to attractive Christmas ear-bobs merely by attaching Christmas symbols such as stars, bells, tree ornaments, etc., with wire or adhesive.

Canned green asparagus make a delightful vegetable for a company supper. Heat them in their liquid, then drain. Dress them with a sauce of melted butter or margarine, lemon juice and a dash of finely grated onion.

May we help you plan your wedding

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

Here it is, folks—the first day of December. One look at the calendar, plus the reminder that there are only 21 more shopping days until you-know-what, is enough to send me rushing to the medicine chest for nerve pills. If you have reason to run with me, it's a good sign that all we need to straighten us out a few good shopping sprees . . . Doug Gordon demonstrates that Christmas decorations can be inexpensive even though charming. The proof, on display in our domestics department, is a spangled tree made from one-half yard of crinolines, a green candle, and a handful of sequins and glitter. Hattie Walters tells me a free pattern is given each customer investing in crinoline, and that the tree is so simple even a child could make one. These would be lovely, inexpensive gifts for shut-ins or elderly friends, and even cheaper than sequins, would be paper stars in silver, gold or red . . . Another cute sequin trick is the wreath pin, such as Mardie Wyckoff received in the mail yesterday. The clever friend who made it, simply stitched green sequins together in a circle, attached a narrow red ribbon bow at the top, and fastened a tiny safety pin at the back. Equally original was the accompanying card in which the sender used the letters of her name to begin her rhymed greetings . . . Someone will be happy on Christmas when she receives a stunning Bates spread of chocolatey brown with her monogram in tan letters 16 inches tall. Viola Feltham was working on it Saturday, and says that this type of applique is no trouble at all with either the Elms or Necchi machine. So, kind sir, if your wife would like a monogrammed, bouffant ensemble for Christmas, think ahead and save money—present her with one of our sewing machines. . . . The toaster at home has reached that stage of its existence when it is exceedingly temperamental, so I looked over the new models on display in our housewares department. Some have a new automatic contraption that reduces toasting to its simplest form—all you do is drop the bread in and permit the device to lower and raise it of its own volition. Personally, I'm old fashioned. I still prefer the type for which I must push a lever. I like to think that when my toast is done I at least had a finger in it . . . Cookie cutters that reflect all the rich brilliance of Christmas arrived yesterday in our gadget department. These are red plastic and take their place right snuggly along side of the aluminum and tin cutters I've been mentioning from time to time. There's a cutter in the shape of Santa's face, another of Santa full length. A Christmas ornament with star cutouts, a sprig of holly, a reindeer, an engine that would delight any small boy, a turkey, and a star may also be found in this imaginative 79¢ assortment. How-nice you lookie, Christmas cookie! . . . Wonder if you noticed that our magazine rack has been moved from the stationery department to the electric shop? This magazine rack of ours always reminds me of a sweet little old lady who ventures away from home only once a year. And how dressed up it is for the occasion, what with all of the front covers bustling forth in Christmas color and sentiment! Don't miss any of them for Christmas is a season when every editor goes all out for a good cause. Or should I have said "good clause"? . . . Peering over the hosiery counter, I spy piles and piles of Christmas boxes in blue, yellow, and brown, splashed with gay color. Looks like a lot of people are hoping to put their best foot forward for the holidays. (I AM in the mood for Christmas. Can't mention foot without thinking of mistleTOE—to say nothing of "heely" berries.) . . . Those silver cardboard angels with golden wings, halos, and innocent blue eyes, that preside over the display in our lingerie department are for sale, you know. At $2.98 you too can own a sophisticated angel with wire mesh hair. And at $15 you can own a Christmas tree fashioned entirely of silver beads, decorated with vari-colored ornaments. But—for free—you can wander through the store, absorbing Christmas color and atmosphere galore. Now's the time to deck the halls—and the heart—with boughs of holly.

Big 3 Talks To Center On United Front

By J. M. Roberts Jr.

Official statements in Washington and London indicate there is no longer much question about whether a four-power conference on Germany will be held, and that Allied talks at Bermuda will center primarily around what kind of a front they will put up.

The United States still feels the Russian switch from intransigence to negotiation is entirely a tactical matter, designed to interfere with European defense plans rather than to reach an accord.

But after a couple of days in which there were signs of an American desire to further pin down Russian intentions before agreeing to the meeting, Secretary Dulles indicated a shift toward the Anglo-French view, which was to get ahead with a meeting as the best test.

"We approach a possible meeting with the representatives of the Soviet Union," said Dulles at a congressional committee hearing on another matter.

Anthony Eden was telling Parliament that Britain believes, on the basis of information already obtained from the United States, that "it will now be possible to arrange a meeting . . ."

There were reports in Washington that President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles, agreeing on this point with France and Britain at Bermuda, would present a simultaneous request that France go ahead with ratification of the European Defense Community without waiting either for the organization of the four-power conference or its results.

The New York Herald Tribune carried a report in this connection that the United States, to give the French government something to work on with recalcitrant members of Parliament, would give assurances that American troops would remain in Europe to balance the strength of a rearmend West Germany.

The recent French vote on Premier Laniel's pro-EDC foreign policy, however, led to small hope that ratification could be obtained now, even if the Russians had not revived die-hard hopes in France that the sovereignty surrender and the rearmend of Germany might somehow be avoided.

The European foreign ministers meeting at The Hague also found that it would take them four more months merely to draw up a proposed constitution for the supranational civil control organization under which EDC is to operate.

This gives French opponents of the unified army the opportunity to claim that it would be premature to ratify the army before they can see how it will be controlled.

Court Won't Review Ruling

Washington, (AP)—The Supreme Court yesterday refused to review a lower court ruling that the Federal Power Commission must fix rates for interstate sales of natural gas by companies which produce and gather it.

The issue, potentially involving millions of dollars, has arraigned a sizable part of the gas-buying Midwest on the one side and the gas-producing states of Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico on the other.

It also has been a hot question in Congress and likely will be again when the legislators convene in January.

Talasz Youngsters On Hand For Engineer's Final Run

There was a red rose in Mandy Toffe's lapel yesterday when he climbed down from the Phoebe Snow to greet two of his staunchest admirers.

Significance of the rose was that Mandy was 70 years old Nov. 22 and he was making his "last run" before retiring.

His two juvenile boosters were at the East Stroudsburg DL&W station to bid their favorite engineer adieu, climaxing an everyday routine which Sandra and Tommy Talasz looked forward to anxiously for years.

An outstanding record goes with Mandy as he departs from railroad service—no personal injuries and no accidents with the company since he joined in 1906 as a fireman.

Hoover Loses Bid To Share Snuff Fortune

Washington, (AP)—The Supreme Court yesterday denied a hearing to Emmett J. Hoover, of Pittsburgh, in his unsuccessful effort to share in the fortune left by Mrs. Henrietta E. Garrett, of Philadelphia.

Hoover's appeal to the high tribunal charged "bias and prejudice" was displayed by Judges Charles Klein in Philadelphia County Orphans Court in rejecting the Hoover claim. The Orphans Court decision was affirmed by the Pennsylvania Supreme Court.

A. B. Wyckoff

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Benny Miller, Stroudsburg High's injured halfback, is resting comfortably in the Monroe County General Hospital and expects to be a patient there for another week. Miller suffered a torn ligament of the left knee in the Thanksgiving Day football game between Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg. The injury will probably keep Benny out of this coming basketball campaign, although he will be able to patrol the outfield for the Mountaineers in the spring. All Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg football fans could do a lot for Miller by just dropping him a card at the General Hospital, room 228.

A double check of the East Stroudsburg High football scoring statistics presented one error. Bob "Red" Kupiszewski scored two touchdowns and not three as previously reported. The extra six-pointer given Kupiszewski actually belongs to Dick Zukowski, lanky end who handled the punting duties for the Cavaliers this season. The wind at Gordon Giffels Field last Thursday was responsible for the very poor kicking average, 14 yards for Stroudsburg and 12 for East Stroudsburg. Yet the local clubs had two of the finest punters in the state in Karl Weingartner and Zukowski.

Wind also raised havoc with the punters on Thursday afternoon at Pen Argyl, although both teams in this case had the best average of all four area machines. Ed Mugavero, Bangor's leading punter for the past several years, actually lost five yards on one kick that glanced off the side of his foot and was blown back by the wind. Ed is one of the best punters in the Lehigh-Northampton League usually, but he probably will never forget one of his first punts in the 1953 Turkey Day classic against Pen Argyl. Mugavero, even with the one minus five foot, averaged 28 yards per kick.

Weingartner won't report for basketball at Stroudsburg High until next Monday at the earliest, while Dave Nevil will probably attend his initial practice on Wednesday. Both Weingartner and Nevil are getting late starts because of football injuries. The remainder of the Stroudsburg football squad reported for basketball duty yesterday, while the East Stroudsburg gridders interested in basketball reported for the first game practice last Friday.

Mahlon Serfass, faculty athletic manager at Stroudsburg High, passes on the word that an official count of 2,960 people paid to see Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg play football last Thursday. This means that the actual crowd was probably in the neighborhood of 3,500 people. The collection at last night's Blue Mountain League basketball game at Stroudsburg High amounted to $16. I sincerely hope that collections in the future will improve, as the circuit appears quite capable of producing some good basketball during the coming winter months.

A possibility exists that the East Stroudsburg High grid machine may be the guest of honor at a community banquet to be held in the future. East Stroudsburg won't declare a school holiday to celebrate its victory over Stroudsburg, at least not at this time. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Widmer were left off the list of those attending the Army-Navy football game on Saturday. A partial list of local people at the service academy battle was published here yesterday. Dr. Phillip Ehrig made Army-Navy tickets available to Bernie Fish and Don Herman, members of the East Stroudsburg football team.

Chris Denis, basketball coach at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, was an interested spectator at Saturday night's basketball game between Rochester and the New York Knicks at Madison Square Garden. Denis coached two of the Royals in California. Craig Letherman, former soccer star at ESSTC, visited in the area on Sunday, while on furlough from the Army. Craig expects to sail for Europe in a matter of weeks. Leon Marable, hard running right halfback for Stroudsburg High, left for his new home in Alexandria, Va., on Saturday. The boys had a farewell party Friday night.

Frank Stull, former Wilson Borough High basketball star, has decided to cast his lot with the ESSTC junior varsity this season rather than the Stroudsburg Poconos, a local entry in the Blue Mountain Basketball League. Mary Jane Zimmerman, goalie on the ESSTC field hockey team of 1952, played in the National Field Hockey Tournament at Hunter College last weekend. Mary Jane was a member of the Mid-East team in the tournament and played with the Lancaster Field Hockey team during the regular season. This is the second straight year that Mary Jane has played in the national tournament. Sister Pat played goal for the Warriors during the season just completed.

Pete Gorant, an ESSTC student and a former umpire in the Pocono Mountains Baseball League, recently passed his Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association basketball officials exam. Gorant is a native of Shamokin.

Stroudsburg Crushes Nazareth In Basketball, 68-41

Poconos Lead Throughout Opening Battle

Stroudsburg Poconos opened the 1953-1954 Blue Mountain League basketball season last night with a convincing 68-41 decision over Nazareth Dress Co., before a small crowd at Stroudsburg High school.

The outcome of the contest was never in doubt as the home team, coached by Tom Shiffer, opened an eight-point gap in the first quarter and increased the lead through the next three periods.

Stroudsburg sent 11 men into action and each member of the squad tallied at least one point, with Henry "Hank" Stetler and Jim "Bunky" Smith leading the way with 16 and 11 counters respectively.

The Poconos outscored Nazareth in the first period, 16-8, and then coasted into a 38-20 advantage at the halfway mark. Stroudsburg had the better of the going in the second quarter, 21-12.

Same Story

It was the same story in the second half as the Poconos scored almost at will, holding a 19-12 advantage in the third period and a 12-9 edge in the fourth and final quarter.

Stetler rolled up his 16 points on five field goals and six from the foul line. Smith had four double-doubles and three singletons to account for his 11 points. Stroudsburg returns to action at Portland on Thursday, by meeting the Apollos in one half of a double-header.

Grand Theater, East Stroudsburg's entry in the Blue Mountain League, plays its first game of the season at Nazareth tomorrow night and then plays in Portland on Thursday, with Hackettstown supplying the opposition.

Orange Bowl Coaches Differ

Miami, Fla., (AP)—Coaches Jim Tatum of Maryland and "Bud" Wilkinson of Oklahoma flew into town yesterday to make plans for their Orange Bowl football meeting and each claimed to be the underdog.

"My boys are scared to death of Oklahoma," Tatum told newsmen as he stepped off a plane. "The Sooners ought to be the favorites."

Opposite View

The Maryland coach, whose team was voted number one in the nation in the Associated Press poll after winding up with 10 straight victories, shrugged that off with the declaration that "I don't think we played any team as good as Oklahoma."

Wilkinson, who arrived an hour earlier, said he figured his Sooners "will have to sharpen their passing attack because they'll never be able to run against Maryland."

Bowl Picture

Rose Bowl—Michigan State vs. UCLA.

Sugar Bowl—Georgia Tech vs. West Virginia.

Orange Bowl—Maryland vs. Oklahoma.

Cotton Bowl—Rice vs. Alabama.

Gator Bowl—Auburn vs. Texas Tech.

Sun Bowl—Mississippi Southern vs. Texas Western.

Tangerine Bowl—Arkansas State vs. East Texas State.

Softball Officers Elected

Altoona, (AP)—The Keystone Amateur Softball Association has re-elected Carl Grieco, of Altoona, president.

Others

Other officers named at a weekend meeting are Len Zimmer, Allentown, secretary; Art Wolf, Altoona, treasurer; Earl Hunsicker, Allentown, umpire-in-chief; Othmar Wuenschel, Greensburg, and Don Richards, Bethlehem, vice presidents.

Gridders To Be Honored

East Stroudsburg High school will hold a special assembly program today, at which time the football team will be honored for its victory over Stroudsburg on Thanksgiving Day.

STILL SMILING—Benny Miller, injured Stroudsburg High halfback, manages a smile above while recovering from a torn ligament of the left knee at the Monroe County General Hospital. Miller, hurt in last Thursday's game with East Stroudsburg, had the damaged ligament repaired by surgery last Friday. Although Ben's scholastic football days are over, he still reads about the game as evidenced by the magazine to his right. (Daily Record Photo)

East Stroudsburg Teachers Near End Of Drills For Saturday's Court Opener With Millersville

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College is currently going through its final stages of preparation for Saturday's opening basketball game of the season, with Millersville supplying the opposition in the Normal Hill gymnasium.

The varsity encounter will get underway at approximately 8:30 p.m., following a preliminary contest that begins an hour earlier.

The Warriors are hard at work under the direction of Coach Chris Denis, colorful mentor now preparing for his second season at the helm of ESSTC basketball.

ESSTC scrimmaged Moravian College for the second time this year last night. The same two squads faced each other prior to the Thanksgiving vacation, in Bethlehem.

Denis will send his charges through daily workouts for the balance of the week, hopeful that the Warriors can open the campaign with a favorable decision over Millersville.

Currently Denis is concerned about the lack of height on his squad. Ed Palmer, recently elected captain for the coming campaign, and John Sloan are the only big boys returning from last year's squad.

Other returnees from last season are Ray Kaseman, Nick Gatto, Bob Mellman and Tony Black.

Graduates from last season's junior varsity currently working out with the varsity are George Colonius, who played his basketball at East Stroudsburg High; Bob Hartman, well known in soccer ranks, Tom Davis and Ray Bussolari.

Denis is pleased with the work of George Heidenreich, recently discharged from the Army. Heidenreich played varsity basketball at ESSTC as a freshman under Coach Ray Welsh, now a full time scout for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Five freshmen are also members of the 16-man squad. The first year men include Wilmont Smith, a member of this season's football team, Nick Cole, Harry Watson, Fred Linett and Jim Spillane.

Jack Newell, former outstanding eager at Stroudsburg High, is currently working out with the ESSTC junior varsity and if he continues to show ability Newell may be promoted to the varsity in January, when Mellman graduates.

Newell, a transfer from Penn State, won't be eligible for varsity competition until the beginning of the second semester.

Frank Stull, former Wilson Borough High star, is also working with the junior varsity quintet at the present time.

A total of 65 candidates, 36 freshmen and 29 upper classmen, reported to Denis at the beginning of practice this fall.

Lewis Judy, a member of the football team on which Denis placed basketball hope, has been ordered by his doctor to give up sports until next football season because of an injured knee. The six feet, four inch end suffered the injury in football this season.

Denis has changed his offensive setup slightly for the current campaign and is anxious to see his charges in action on Saturday.

Kaseman, Palmer and Sloan are starting their third year of varsity basketball at ESSTC. All are seniors and will be playing their final season for the Normal Hill school.

Stockertown Reforms Club

Tatamy—Stockertown, out of the Blue Mountain Baseball League last season, formally applied for readmission to the circuit for the 1954 campaign at a league meeting here at the Tatamy Fire House last night.

The circuit unanimously voted to accept Stockertown back in the fold. Robert Seibler, manager of the Stockertown club in recent years, requested the team's return to an active status at last night's meeting.

Stockertown's return to an active position guarantees at least six teams in the Blue Mountain League next season. The list, in addition to Stockertown, includes Portland, Roseto, Tatamy, Martins Creek and Johnsonville.

Pocono A. C., the circuit entry from the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg area, remains in a doubtful condition.

Feelers Received

Feelers have also been received from two other clubs, one of which is Bath. Action on the feelers will take place at a future meeting, although they came in for lengthy discussion last night.

Woodrow Jones, league president, and Armon Williams, secretary, made a report on the banquet held earlier this month. Williams was all instructed to make a collection of all by-laws in the minutes of meetings so a revision of the circuit's by-laws can be made.

League officers will be elected at the next meeting, Monday, January 25, at Otto's Grand View, Portland.

Olympio "Patch" Pacholi, Martins Creek, is chairman of the nominating committee. Everett Reimer, Portland, and George Messinger, Tatamy, are members of the committee.

Brundage Retires As Head Of U.S. Olympic Association

Washington, (AP)—Avery Brundage retired yesterday as president of the U. S. Olympic Association, after serving 25 years in the post. Kenneth L. "Tug" Wilson, Big Ten commissioner, was elected to succeed him.

Brundage told a news conference he was giving up the American post to devote his full energies to the International Olympic Association. Brundage was elected president of the international group last year and will serve in that capacity until 1960.

Another Reason

Brundage, who is 66, withdrew from the American Association for the additional reason that he wanted to forestall any possible charge of bias in holding the two jobs at the same time.

Wilson, who formerly held the post of vice president in the U. S. association, was elected unanimously to the top position. Asa Bushnell of New York was re-elected secretary.

Ten Hoff Stops Henri

Holyoke, Mass., (AP)—Burly Hein Ten Hoff, 220, former German heavyweight champion, knocked out Art Henri, 195, of New York, last night in the sixth round of a scheduled eight round boxing bout to run his American invasion knock-out string to five straight.

Rosewall Advances

Melbourne, Tuesday, (AP)—Top seeded Ken Rosewall of Australia gained the semifinals of the Victorian Tennis Championships yesterday in a five set struggle with fellow countryman Clive Wilderspin. The scores were 6-2, 3-6, 6-3, 4-6, 6-3.

Jack's Market To Purchase Softball Suits

Jack's Market, champion of the Monroe County Softball League last season, held a business meeting at the home of Ray Gallagher, 136 Sopher St., East Stroudsburg, last night.

New uniforms for next season was the chief topic of business and plans were made to speak with at least one dealer.

Present

Members of the club presented Jack McMahon, owner of Jack's Market, with a set of traveling luggage, in appreciation for his fine sponsorship during the campaign recently completed.

The Monroe County Softball League championship trophy was also presented at the meeting.

Another meeting of team members will be held at the Gallagher home next Monday.

ESSTC Launches Conference Play

Johnstown, (AP)—Millersville and East Stroudsburg open the Pennsylvania State Teachers College basketball season Saturday at East Stroudsburg.

Restriction

The league schedule calls for 66 games. Each team in the 14-team circuit must play at least eight conference games to qualify for the title.

Newell, a transfer from Penn State, won't be eligible for varsity competition until the beginning of the second semester.

Frank Stull, former Wilson Borough High star, is also working with the junior varsity quintet at the present time.

A total of 65 candidates, 36 freshmen and 29 upper classmen, reported to Denis at the beginning of practice this fall.

Lewis Judy, a member of the football team on which Denis placed basketball hope, has been ordered by his doctor to give up sports until next football season because of an injured knee. The six feet, four inch end suffered the injury in football this season.

Kaseman, Palmer and Sloan are starting their third year of varsity basketball at ESSTC. All are seniors and will be playing their final season for the Normal Hill school.

Football Players Report To Bangor Basketball Squad

Bangor—Bangor High school's basketball team reached full strength for the first time this fall yesterday when football players reported to the cage squad for the first time.

The presence of the grid stars added 18 new men to Coach John Heard's cage machine that opens the season against Slatington High next Monday, at Bangor.

Rodney Miller and Dale LeBar, both lettermen on last year's cage squad, were the two senior football players reporting yesterday.

Sophomores

Art "Bucky" Parsons, Duane Miller and Larry Raph, all junior varsity cagers in the past, were three junior classmen reporting to Heard yesterday. Raph didn't play basketball last year because of an injury, but did play junior varsity basketball the previous campaign.

Don Evans and Jack Stenlake, a pair of sophomore varsity gridders, also were on hand yesterday, as were Jim Warrick and Leo Young, sophomore members of the junior varsity grid machine.

Glen Heard, Frank Brown, Dale Miller and Sam Heard, all freshmen members of the varsity grid machine, reported yesterday as did Bob Butz, John Williams and Joe Tiburzi, freshmen members of the junior varsity football squad.

Joe Powlette and Dick Rutt, both sophomores, reported for their first basketball drill yesterday, although neither played football.

Heard plans to drill his cagers daily prior to next Monday's opening contest.

Lewis Proud Of Mountaineers

New Orleans, (AP)—Coach Art Lewis of the University of West Virginia said here yesterday his Mountaineers have "a damn good team," one capable of giving Georgia Tech a bang up football game in the Sugar Bowl New Year's Day.

Lewis told the Monday Quarterbacks Club:

Hitting Hard

"I know most of you are wondering what kind of team we have. I want to tell you we have a damn good one. Our boys would be a credit to any university.

"Some of them have never been out of the hills and you can't tell what will happen when they get down to this part of the country. No matter what happens, they'll be hitting hard New Year's Day."

West Virginia will train on the Mississippi Gulf Coast and Coach Lewis left yesterday afternoon to inspect training sites. He said the Mountaineers probably would reach the coast about December 20.

Greene-Dreher Plays Host To Polk Today

Newfoundland — Greene-Dreher-Sterling High school opens its 1953-1954 basketball schedule here tonight when the Stage play host to Polk, a member of the Monroe County Basketball League.

This will be the first meeting of the two schools in any sport. Polk, coached by Art Smith, former GDS athlete, has been a power in its loop, having won three championships, finishing second three times and third once in eight seasons.

Tall Club

Coach Henry "Hank" Arneberg, beginning his 15th season at the helm of the Gold and Blue, will send out a squad that has good height, fair speed but is short on varsity experience.

The probable starting lineup for the Stags will find Bob Lupcho, a six-foot-three-inch, working in a forward position with either "Hank" Olsommer or Tommy Klepadlo, Art Frey, another youngster of Lupcho's proportions, at center and Captain Bobby Cron and Dave Heberling at the guards.

The feature game will be preceded by a clash between two teams of the GDS intramural league. The first game is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Five Major League Organizations Draft Total Of Thirteen Players At Atlanta Gathering

Atlanta, Ga.—The major leagues dipped into the minor league talent pool for 13 players at an investment of $132,500 yesterday in the annual bargain sale that opens the winter baseball meetings.

Baltimore, heir to the St. Louis Browns, number one pick, nabbed second baseman Vinicio Garcia, a .305 hitter at Shreveport in the Texas League. The Orioles also took 30-year-old outfielder "Chuck" Diering, former Giant and Cardinal, from San Francisco. Diering played the 1953 season at Minneapolis where he hit a surprising .322.

Detroit, Cleveland, the Chicago White Sox and Baltimore each drafted two men and the Philadelphia A's one for a total of nine by Pittsburgh, Chicago, Cincinnati and St. Louis. Seven clubs passed when their names were called, including the World Champion New York Yankees and pennant-winning Brooklyn Dodgers.

Five pitchers, five infielders and three outfielders were selected, two more than the 1952 draft of 11 players for $120,000.

Yankee Prospect

Branch Rickey Jr., of Pittsburgh picked a bright young New York Yankee prospect when he took outfielder Gerald Lynch from the Kansas City list. Lynch led the Piedmont League in hitting with a .333 mark at Norfolk last season and set the pace with 180 hits, 33 doubles, 22 triples, 113 runs batted in and 320 total bases. He also hit 21 home runs.

Cleveland may have grabbed a "sleeper" in shortstop Tom Kaczmarek, a New York Giants farmhand off their Minneapolis list.

The Indians actually went down to class "A" to get the infielder who played with Wilkes-Barre, of the Eastern League last year and batted .285. Cleveland's other selection was right-handed pitcher Don Frachia, a 15-12 performer at Beaumont in the Texas League. Frachia is a former third baseman.

The Brooklyn chain lost two men when the Athletics selected second baseman Forrest Jacobs from Montreal and Cincinnati took right-handed pitcher Jim Melton from St. Paul. Jacobs played at Ft. Worth and hit .282 before the Brooks moved him up to Montreal. Melton had a 10-10 record and a 4.40 earned run average at Mobile of the South-eastern.

Detroit went for infield protection, drafting first baseman Charlie Kress (.317) from the Cards' Rochester farm. And infielder Harry Bright (.295) at Memphis from the Charleston, W. Va. club of the American Association.

Frank Lane dug deep for some left-handed pitching to balance the Chicago White Sox staff, taking Al Sima, who had a 2-3 record with Washington last year, from the Chattanooga list and "Jocko" Thompson (10-4), the ex-Phillie, from Baltimore.

Penn Names Committee To Pick Coach

Philadelphia (AP) — University of Pennsylvania athletic officials yesterday put a quiet to rumors they would introduce their new football coach today with an announcement that a committee has been named to scan the field of candidates.

And, the kicker is this statement in the announcement:

"The committee hopes to make a recommendation about the first of January."

The committee is made up of three faculty members and the new football captain, to be elected this afternoon. The 1953 captain, halfback George Bosseler, is an ex-officio member of the committee, that is he can't vote on the committee's recommendations.

The faculty members named to the committee yesterday are Prof. Lester Kilmann, Athletic Dean Gene Gibson and Athletic Director Jerry Ford.

Rumors

The rumors floating around had it that the coach to succeed George Munger, who bowed out after 16 seasons as head of the Red and Blue, would be introduced tonight at a testimonial dinner for Munger, whose team ended the season in a 7-7 Thanksgiving Day tie with Cornell.

The last part of the statement read:

"Pennsylvania men will be preferred but the committee is also looking outside its own alumni for someone who may be better qualified for the job."

Change

Roger Cramer, who coached the White Sox last season, was dropped to make room for Marion. Cramer has been offered another job in the organization but has yet made his decision. The other Chicago coaches are holdovers Lum Harris and Ray Berres.

Marion's salary was not disclosed but it undoubtedly will fall far short of his $35,000 salary with the Orioles. It was expected that the Baltimore club will make up the difference next year.

Five Teams Sure To Enter Pocono Mountains Basketball League; Five Other Possibilities

Five teams have served notice that they will definitely play in the Pocono Mountains Basketball League this season and five others have shown a willingness to take part in the same circuit, it was announced last night by Ray Davies, league president.

Davies pointed out last night that the list of certain entries includes Pocono Lake, Anaconim, Moscow, Newfoundland and a squad from the Tobyhanna Signal Depot.

Right now the circuit is waiting for such localities as Barrett, Tannersville, Tobyhanna village, Broadheadville and Kresgeville to make up their minds as to whether or not they will place a club in the circuit. Each of the localities have indicated that they are interested in such a move.

A team from East Stroudsburg State Teachers College has also shown interest in the local circuit.

Davies announced last night that the league could very easily operate as an eight or 10-team loop, although it will operate with fewer teams if other organizations don't show a willingness to enter in the near future.

If the Pocono Mountain League rounds into its possible shape it will be stronger than at any time in its past history. The circuit didn't operate last season.

Davies has called a meeting of the league for the Bartonville Hotel on Wednesday, December 9. The makeup of the circuit will be decided at this gathering. The meeting is slated for 8 p. m.

Marion Joins White Sox As Coach

Atlanta, Ga. (AP) — Marty Marion who managed the last place St. Louis Browns in 1953, has been signed as coach of the Chicago White Sox, it was announced last night.

Marion, who had piloted the St. Louis Cardinals to a third place finish in 1951 before joining the Browns as a player-coach the following season, was dropped by the Baltimore Orioles after they inherited the Browns last month, although his three-year contract had another year to go.

Good Record

Texas Tech had a 10-1 record this year and its only setback was a 27-14 loss to Texas A&M of the Southwest Conference.

Auburn, picked to finish 11th in the 12-member SEC, won seven, lost two and tied one this season. The Tigers gave Mississippi a 13-0 trimming for that team's only SEC loss and played on virtually even terms with Conference champion Alabama at Birmingham last weekend.

Alabama's 10-7 victory over Auburn won a Cotton Bowl berth for the Crimson Tide. Auburn finished in a tie with Mississippi State for third place.

Texas Tech, Auburn Selected To Clash In Gator Bowl Tilt

Jacksonville, Fla. (AP) — Texas Tech, Border Conference champion, and Auburn, Southeastern Conference surprise team of the year, were picked yesterday for the ninth annual Gator Bowl football game here New Year's Day.

Their selection was announced by the Gator Bowl Association.

Dewitt Weaver, athletic director and coach of the Tech Red Raiders, was here for the announcement and signed a contract for the contest. Gator Bowl officials said Auburn would complete formalities in the next few days.

Seixas' Knee Remains Big Question Mark

By Will Grimsley

Melbourne (AP) — Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, is out of the Victorian Tennis tournament but he played nine hard sets yesterday and then walked off the courts with a strong step.

That is the one encouraging item for the hard-luck U.S. Davis Cup team playing its final tuneup tournament before the Interzone and Challenge round matches.

Seixas, holder of the Wimbledon crown and one of the two players on whom the U.S. is banking for the return of the huge trophy, bowed in a second round match at the Kooyong courts to Australia's George Worthington, 6-3, 6-0, 4-6, 8-6, 6-1. Then he teamed with Tony Trabert of Cincinnati, to beat Worthington and Don Candy in doubles, 6-4, 6-4, 4-6, 9-7.

Evident

Seixas' knee was not fit. That was evident in his play against Worthington where he did nothing during the first two sets that might risk further injury or delay the healing. Then he made a bid for the match but couldn't catch up.

So the knee remains the one, big question mark in America's bid to recapture the Davis Cup.

Seixas is convinced the knee will rest and warm weather. It has been cold and windy here, except for today. Brisbane, where the Interzone matches with the Belgium-India winner begin December 17 promises warmer temperatures.

"My knee felt stiff at first against Worthington but I could get it getting better as I went along," Seixas said. "I'm sure it will be all right for the Cup matches."

Bill Talbert, non-playing captain of the U.S. team, adds that "Vic says his knee will be okay. I have to go with that."

After Seixas really started playing, it was a footfall penalty and a bad call that cost him his service in the fourth game of the fifth set. Then his game seemed to collapse again.

Seixas has been troubled by an ailing knee for the past year after injuring the limb in a tournament in the United States.

America's Davis Cup hopes will improve, as soon as Seixas' knee takes a definite turn for the better.

Arithmetic System To Be Outlined

A new method of arithmetic instruction will be outlined for Stroudsburg elementary school teachers tomorrow in Ramsey School, Roger Dunning, supervisor, reported last night.

Dr. Catherine Stern, New York City, will demonstrate the system called "Structural Arithmetic" to teachers, administrators, parents and invited faculty members from other schools in the area.

Session is slated to open at 1:30 p. m. with Dr. Stern explaining the system, using pupils already taking the course in local schools. Elementary schools of the borough will be closed in the afternoon while the program is under way, Dunning said.

'Your Health'

From The Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania and the Monroe County Medical Society

No wonder Miss Hinkley was a misanthrope; She was fastidious, yet couldn't use soap.

Soap is a valuable agent for the maintenance of cleanliness.

Used by practically everybody, soap is a pleasant and efficient means of cleansing the skin.

Some individuals, however, are susceptible to a soap which irritates their skin.

Because of these exceptionally sensitive people, it is up to the physician to know the composition and properties of soap, and to have knowledge of substitute methods of cleansing.

Soaps are chemical combinations of fatty acids and alkalis. Sodium hydroxide is a commonly used alkali in the manufacture of toilet soaps as well as in granulated and flaked household products.

The type of fat used usually consists of tallow, lanolin, oils of coconut, cottonseed, olive, palm, peanut, sunflower, linseed or soy.

Commonly used toilet soaps usually are not pure soaps, containing special oils, dyes and coloring matter to make them attractive in appearance and odor.

Rosin gives softness, borax and abrasives are added for scrubbing action, germicidal agents and drugs sometimes put into soaps for medicinal value.

Dishwashing, laundry and housecleaning soaps usually contain alkaline builders. It is the alkalinity in soap which causes most of skin irritation with also the possible sensitizing effect of added perfumes, builders, coloring agents, medications and preservatives.

A cleansing agent found satisfactory to those sensitive to soap is sodium lauryl sulfoacetate, better known as Irium.
